Company delivers Channel Ready Partner Program

Cincinnati, OH – March 3, 2009 Unitask Software, the leading provider of Oracle E-Business Suite Application solutions, today announced the launch of a multi-tiered Channel Partner Program. The Unitask Partner Advantage Program allows customers to gain access to the company's solutions through a variety of value-added partners such as Systems Integrators and Solutions Providers, in addition to procuring from the company itself.

Complete Solution Integration

“We have listened very carefully to our customers and partners,” said Brad Ferguson, Unitask's Director of Business Development. “The market has directed us to continue providing solution-sets and delivery channels that ensure, both new and existing, deployments stay on-time and on-budget in the face of increased pressures from a softening worldwide economy. This program delivers on this need of eliminating operational risk while further ensuring deployment success for our customers and partners.”

Enablement for Changing Business Models

The Unitask Partner Advantage Program enables participation on a variety of levels to accommodate differing business models. These levels include Enabled Level, Enhanced Level and Elite Level.

- The Unitask Enabled Level is designed for those organizations providing product-based solutions, but no services.
- The Unitask Enhanced Level is designed for those organizations providing product and delivery and integration solutions.
- The Unitask Elite level is for solution providers that not only provide product solutions and integration services, but also deliver ongoing service and support for customers.

In each case, all products within the Unitask Solution portfolio are available for inclusion in the program, which is effective immediately.
